

uMiner is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by picking from a predefined list of campaigns. The data is collected from the sensors in the participant's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The participants can opt-in on which campaigns they want to contribute to.	Opt-in uMiner is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by specifying a campaign which describes exactly what they want and how they want it. The data is collected from the sensors in the participant's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The participants can opt-in on which campaigns they want to contribute to.
Ease-of-use uMiner is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by picking from a predefined list of campaigns. The data is collected from the sensors in the participant's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The participants have been matched with a campaign based on a participant profile.	Assigned Customizable uMiner is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by specifying a campaign which describes exactly what they want and how they want it. The data is collected from the sensors in the participant's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The participants have been matched with a campaign based on a participant