

DataCollection is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by picking from a predefined list of campaigns. The data is collected from the sensors in the user's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The users can opt-in on which campaigns they want to contribute to.	Opt-in DataCollection is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by specifying a campaign which describes exactly what they want and how they want it. The data is collected from the sensors in the user's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The users can opt-in on which campaigns they want to contribute to.
Static DataCollection is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by picking from a predefined list of campaigns. The data is collected from the sensors in the user's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The users have been matched with a campaign based on a user profile.	Customizable DataCollection is a Software tool which allows customers to obtain labeled training data by specifying a campaign which describes exactly what they want and how they want it. The data is collected from the sensors in the user's mobile device with labels collected using questionnaires. The users have been matched with a campaign based on a user profile. Assigned